

FOWLER AFTER SEN. ALDRICH

New Jersey Congressman Wants Permanent

COMMISSION FOR TARIFF

Denounces Speaker in Statement Given Out Last Night—Does Not Believe American People Are Going to Allow Pockets Picked.

Washington, D. C., Dec. 6.—In a statement last night, announcing his purpose to introduce to-day a bill creating a permanent tariff commission, Representative Fowler of New Jersey, one of the insurgent leaders, bitterly assailed Senator Aldrich and Speaker Cannon.

"It is now perfectly clear," he says, "that unless the Republican party gets rid of Aldrichism and Cannonism, the people will get rid of the Republican party." Then Mr. Fowler refers to alleged tricky trades by the leaders of Congress and declares that the age of unspeakable selfishness is rapidly approaching an end, and outlines a platform on which to be successful at the polls.

Fowler continues, "I do not believe the American people are going to permit Aldrich to pick their pockets through a legendism of words. The thunderbolt of righteous indignation and punitive wrath will strike, paralyze and shatter the Republican party, unless it utterly repudiates Aldrichism and the subservient complement, Cannonism."

PRESIDENT GOLFING AGAIN.

With Senator Bourne of Oregon and Frank B. Kellogg of St. Paul.

Washington, Dec. 6.—Frank B. Kellogg of St. Paul, the government's trust buster, had an opportunity Saturday afternoon to test President Taft's skill as a driver and putter. He was invited by the president to play golf with him and Senator Bourne of Oregon, the St. Paul man making the third player in a threesome. Senator Bourne, who prides himself on his golf game, was willing to play the best ball of the president and Mr. Kellogg. The president resented this insinuation of superiority and insisted on each man playing for himself. Although no information is given out about the game it is understood that Mr. Kellogg was the recipient Saturday night of confidential congratulations.

Mr. Taft's close attention during the last week to the work of preparing his message to Congress threw him off his game and he is said to have topped and sliced many a ball. Mr. Kellogg, on the other hand, drove a long ball and kept out of bunkers, high grass and other trouble.

The presidential party played on the Chevy Chase golf links, a few miles from the White House. They went out to Chevy Chase in Mr. Taft's big touring car. The party included, in addition to the three players, Capt. Archibald Butt, the president's military aid.

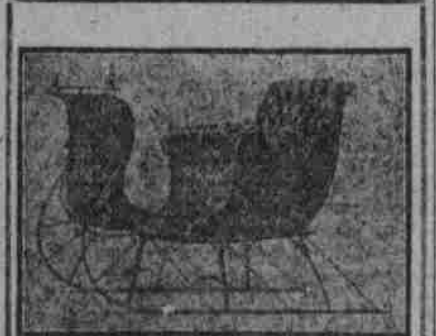

SENATOR CULBERSON RESIGNS.

Decides to Give Up the Minority Leadership in the Senate.

Washington, Dec. 6.—Senator Culbertson of Texas, the Democratic leader in the upper house of Congress, has resigned that position, to take effect at once. Notice that Mr. Culbertson will no longer serve as minority leader in the Senate was received yesterday by Senator Money of Mississippi, who as vice-chairman of the Democratic caucus, stands next in authority to Senator Culbertson.

Mr. Culbertson is now in Atlantic City, and his resignation as minority leader was received by telegram from that place Saturday. Saturday night, Senator Money wired Senator Culbertson a long telegram, urging him to reconsider. His friends say that Mr. Culbertson will undoubtedly adhere to his determination to give up the office of minority leader. In his telegram to Senator Money, Mr. Culbertson gave his health as the reason for his desire to relinquish the responsibilities of leadership.

According to prominent Democrats here, Senator Money of Mississippi will succeed Senator Culbertson. Some years ago, on the death of Arthur P. Gorman of Maryland, the minority leadership was conferred on Senator Blaine of Kentucky, whose term was about to expire. Mr. Money will quit public life on March 4, 1911, and it has been suggested that as a mark of the respect and esteem in which he is held by his colleagues he should be entrusted with the minority leadership during the re-

TERRIER'S LIFE WORTH $166 A DAY TO GIRL

If Proto, Ailing, Survives Four Months Longer Miss McLellan Will Get $20,000 Bequest.

Chicago, Dec. 6.—For Proto, an ailing skye terrier, to live four months longer will mean $20,000 to Miss Caroline McLellan of Glendive, Mont.

Miss McLellan and her mother, Mrs. Margaret Hughes, arrived from the West Saturday with the dog. They were met by Dr. Johnson Henning, a dog specialist, prepared to minister to Proto pending his transfer to the Pennsylvania Hospital for New York, where he is to be operated on by a famous veterinary specialist.

In four months the dog will be fifteen years old, and if he dies before that time Miss McLellan, who is Mrs. Hughes' daughter by her first husband, will lose a $20,000 bequest, of which she has been drawing the interest since her stepfather's death in 1900. The will of Mr. Hughes contained the singular clause that if Proto lived to be fifteen his stepdaughter was to have full possession of the $20,000, but if he died before reaching that age the sum designated should revert to the estate and interest payments should cease. Hughes was a miser and unfriendly to his stepdaughter.

"My stepfather thought he was playing a joke on me, perhaps," said Miss McLellan, as she sat in the Pullman with Proto in her lap, "but it was the most serious joke he ever played on anybody, and he played many. Proto has been an obsession with me ever since Mr. Hughes died. I fed him on chicken livers and he grew too fat. I fed him on shrimp dog biscuits and he became emaciated. He has been at the point of death four times and I have nearly died fifty times. I feel eighty years old."

HUNTER AND DEER ROLL INTO BROOK

Wounded Doe Knocks Gun From His Hands. Doty's Brother Fired the Shot at Hudson, N. H.

Nashua, N. H., Dec. 6.—A wounded doe crashing through the brush in the woods of Hudson late Saturday ran into Orman Doty, knocked his gun from his hands and knocked him into a brook. The deer had been wounded by Doty's brother, Philip, but had escaped his second shot and ran to where Orman was hunting. When the deer knocked the gun from his hands Doty seized the deer and both went into the brook. A moment later the deer died from the wound received.

SOUL GOES OUT IN HYMN.

Singing "See Our Own Salvation," Woman Dies in Church.

Newbury, N. Y., Dec. 6.—As she was singing "Let Us See Our Own Salvation," Mrs. Martha McKinley was stricken in the Church of the Corner Stone in this city last night and died of apoplexy.

Mrs. McKinley had gone with her daughter, Gertrude, to the services. The hymn, "Love Divine," was started by the congregation. As the phrase given above was reached, Mrs. McKinley uttered a cry of pain and sank back in her seat. She was forty-eight years old.

BANK TREASURER RETURNS.

Robert D. Muir Alleged to Have Stolen $25,000 of Funds.

New Haven, Conn., Dec. 6.—Robert D. Muir, the defaulting treasurer of the People's Bank & Trust company of this city, returned last night. His defaulting amounted to $25,000, at least. That much was officially acknowledged by the bank's officers, in a statement made public yesterday. The same statement said the shortage had been made up by the officials of the bank, and the capital was not impaired. What action will be taken about prosecuting Muir was not made known.

DAMAGED BY CYCLONE.

Terre Haute, Ind., Hit by "Twister," Which Injured Scores of People.

Terre Haute, Ind., Dec. 6.—Many buildings were wrecked by a cyclone, which struck the business section of Terre Haute yesterday. One person was seriously and a score painfully injured, while the value of the property damaged amounted to more than $20,000. The Vandavia line general freight office was damaged.

Justice Moody's Health Slowly Improves.

Boston, Dec. 6.—Associate Justice Moody of the supreme court, who is a patient at the Corey Hill hospital, is reported to be in about the same condition as he was a fortnight ago. Progress toward recovery is very slow, and he is likely to remain in the hospital for some time yet, but there is a steady improvement in his condition.

THE BODIES BURNED

Ashes of Americans Treated With Greatest Contempt

BY PRES. ZELAYA'S ORDERS

Decisive Battle Expected Within a Few Days—Revolutionists to Adopt Aggressive Tactics Against Zelaya.

Mobile, Ala., Dec. 6.—The confirmation of the cremation of the bodies of Greece and Cannon, has been received here, coming in letters, all of which expressed horror at the deed. They said the execution took place on the banks of the San Juan river within sight of El Estero, after which the bodies were burned and the ashes of the Americans treated with the greatest contempt.

It is claimed that some one ordered the ashes to be swept along the public road with dust until they could be swept into the San Juan river. This was considered the greatest indignity which could be heaped upon heroes, and according to the letters it was done in the vilest manner possible. The Nicaraguan letter writers said the act was performed by President Zelaya's personal orders.

EXPECT DECISIVE BATTLE.

Revolutionists Will Adopt Drastic Tactics.

Washington, D. C., Dec. 6.—Dr. Salvador Castillon, agent in Washington of the Nicaraguan provisional government, received a dispatch late last night saying that a decisive battle is expected within a few days near Rama. The revolutionists expected to adopt shortly more aggressive plans against President Zelaya, as their forces have recently received a large consignment of arms and ammunition.

MARINES TRANSFERRED.

From Transport, Prairie, Struck in Mud in Delaware River.

Philadelphia, Pa., Dec. 6.—Marines and stores from the Prairie were transferred to her sister transport, Dixie, yesterday afternoon. The Dixie may slip out of the Delaware on the next tide and turn her nose toward Central America, as sealed orders have been given her.

BOY CAUSED MINE HORROR.

Hired in Alleged Violation of Child Labor Law.

Cherry, Ill., Dec. 6.—Testimony introduced at the coroner's inquest on the Cherry mine horror yesterday tended to show that the fire was started by Mat Francisco, an inexperienced boy, who was working in the mine in an alleged violation of the child labor law.

Francisco worked under Rosenback, the owner, who disappeared the day following the accident, the boy's duty being to push the empty cars from the main shaft in the second vein over to the cage running to the third vein.

He testified he had pushed the loaded car of hay that caught fire over to the elevator shaft leading to the third vein and left it standing close to the blazing torch, which ignited it. He said his superiors gave him no instructions as to what he should do with the hay.

Mine Inspector Thomas Hudson testified he had not inspected the mine since last July and did not know they were using open torches, instead of electric lights.

BISHOP DIES IN THE WILDS.

Wife Lost With Him—Fate of the Rt. Rev. I. O. Stringer in Canada Northwest.

Edmonton, Alberta, Dec. 6.—Last June Bishop Isaac O. Stringer of Sulist left here for Dawson City by the overland trail and it was anticipated that he would reach the land of the midnight sun by October at the latest. When he failed to arrive inquiries were made and it was learned from Indian advisers brought down Saturday that he had perished between the two cities.

It is said that Mrs. Stringer, who accompanied him, has also perished, as none of the trappers or voyageurs who have returned from the North has heard anything of her during the past two months.

The bishop and his wife are the best known missionaries in the far North and for years have labored among the Eskimos and northern Indians. But recently he was created a Bishop on account of the work he has done and to the people of the Canada western wilderness his name is a household word.

CHANCE FOR TIMES READERS

In order to test The Times' great circulation and its superior advertising value, we have made arrangements with D. F. Davis, the popular druggist, to offer one of his best selling medicines at half price to anyone who will cut out the following coupon and present it at his store:

COUPON.

This coupon entitles the holder to one 50c package of Dr. Howard's specific for the cure of constipation and dyspepsia at half price, 25c. I will refund the money to any dissatisfied customer. D. F. Davis.

TWENTY-FIVE CENTS.

Dr. Howard's specific for the cure of constipation and dyspepsia is not an unknown remedy. It has made many remarkable cures right here in Barre, and so positive is Druggist Davis of its great superiority in curing dyspepsia, constipation, sick headache and liver troubles that he will, in addition to selling it at half price, refund the money to anyone whom it does not cure.

Nothing can take the place of Gold Dust

There's no room about the house more inviting than a snow-white bath room.

The tub, the bowl, the wash basin, the metal pipes, fixtures and taps, the tiling and woodwork all need the cleansing, brightening influence of Gold Dust.

A heaping tablespoonful of Gold Dust to a pail of water is all that is required.

Gold Dust is the greatest of all sanitary cleansers. It searches out every impurity—kills every germ.

SHAKE POISON AS MEDICINE.

Doctor Who Uses It for Tuberculosis Reports Mixed Results.

Philadelphia, Dec. 6.—In the current number of the American Journal of Clinical Medicine the results of a preliminary investigation of rattlesnake's venom as a curative agent are given in an article by Dr. Thomas J. Mays of this city. Dr. Mays is medical director of the Philadelphia clinic for the home treatment of chest and throat diseases.

In his article, which is entitled, "The Action of Crostalin," Dr. Mays says: "The writer's own experimental study of this substance, undertaken a number of years ago, led him to believe that it profoundly affects the cerebro spinal nervous system, and especially that part of the spinal cord which comprises the respiratory center and other closely allied functions."

The average hypodermic injection of crostalin is 1,000 grain, although it is often advisable to begin with 1,200 grain or even smaller amount, and it is essential to increase the dose to 1,500 grain, or even more, and repeat it at more frequent intervals in cases where quite a number of injections have been made.

The cough and expectoration, the two very harassing features in every case of phthisis, almost without exception, yield rapidly to the action of this drug, whether administered subcutaneously or internally or both. The patient has a decided increase in strength from the very beginning of the treatment. This has been an evident and so constant that it seemed almost anomalous in the absence of an increase in flesh.

MARTIAL LAW IS DECLARED.

Troops Guard Mills, Following Shooting in Strike.

Bridgeport, O., Dec. 6.—Martial law held sway in this city, where 2,000 striking employees of the Aetna-Standard plant of the American Sheet & Tin Plate company, a subsidiary of the United States Steel corporation, have been rioting since midnight Friday.

A regiment of infantry, one squadron of cavalry and over 100 deputy sheriffs and company police guard the city and tin plate mills.

Five men have been shot and more or less seriously wounded during 24 hours.

A federal injunction has been asked for in Columbus, Ohio, to restrain the strikers from interfering with the operation of the plant.

Governor Harmon at Columbus is being kept in close touch with the situation, and has conferred full military powers upon Brigadier-General John C. Speaks, in command of both civil and state authorities here.

WILL MAKE DEMANDS.

All Eastern Railroads to Be Asked to Give Trainmen 10 Per Cent. Increase.

New York, Dec. 6.—Another visit was paid to this city by Fifth Vice Grand Master James Murdoch of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, who stayed an hour or two at the Grand Union hotel, where he made all preparations for a demand at the end of the week on all the eastern railroads for a ten per cent. increase in the wages of the trainmen. He left this city early in the afternoon, but will remain in the vicinity of New York until the demand is made.

The demand will be made simultaneously on the members of the General Managers' association, representing 32 eastern railroads. Murdoch has charge of matters for the New England division of the railroads.

If the demands are preemptorily refused, a second poll of the trainmen may be made to check the poll already taken, and if it is found that 75 per cent. have voted to make the demand, a secret ballot for a strike will be ordered.

PRINCETON'S NEW CAPTAIN.

Edward J. Hart of Exeter Academy and a Sophomore.

Princeton, N. J., Dec. 6.—Edward J. Hart, star footballer of the Tigers, was unanimously elected captain for next year Saturday afternoon. Hart is a sophomore now, and his election to be captain in the junior year is an honor which few Princeton men can boast.

Only such stars as Cochrane, Poe, Jim Conney and others have been so chosen. Hart, from Exeter, N. H., he prepared at Exeter academy and played four years there, with such men as Jim Homan and Ted Jones of Yale, McCormick and Conney of Princeton. Owing to injuries, he did not play so great a game as he is said to be capable of, but his work in the Yale-Princeton game was the only redeeming feature of Princeton's play. He was captain of the Princeton freshman team last year.

NEWS FROM WASHINGTON

Ready for Congress Which Meets Today

SOME HOPE OF LEGISLATION

Leaven of the Insurgents Appears to Have Worked—There Is Much Talk of a Tariff Commission.

Washington, Dec. 6.—Senators and representatives have been slow to assemble for the session beginning to-day, as if loth to go to school, and Washington has been disappointed at these dilatory ideas of members of Congress, for the city is dull when the halls of legislation are adjourned on Capitol hill, and is ready to wake up and take the dollars of the solons. It is probably not so much due to any lack of interest in forthcoming legislation that members are so slow in arriving, but because Congress was in session into August and the members have met at several occasions, meantime, so that the rest for a happy reunion has been dulled. Probably they will pour into the city in great numbers to-day, but it is asserted that many will delay coming until after the holidays, when the real work of Congress will begin.

Of course, the leaders are on hand and one hears from them that a long and fruitful session is expected. Much remedial legislation is to be enacted. It would not be surprising if much were done in various directions. The Republicans feel that they will have to make a record as a recommendation for two years more of Republican rule in the House. So, then, the legislative leaders are likely to be found co-operating with the administration, and if at times found waiting, respond to the prods of the president, who has shown himself quick to detect legislative openings and to take decisive action in consequence.

One meets with evidence that the leaven of the insurgents has worked, however much Cannon and his machine may deny this and sputter vainly. Leaders like Bostell say a great deal of latitude and time is to be allowed this year for debate on all bills. There are intimations, also, that in other respects the House will be made to appear more the master than the servant of the speaker. The rules were reformed somewhat last spring, and what with more tolerant and liberal ideas in the speaker's chair and room, membership in the House may be worth while having. This spirit, it is believed, will also carry itself into the character of the legislation. Meantime, the chasm between the speaker and the insurgents can be as wide as the speaker may choose to make it. Some of the insurgents would like to get along with the speaker, and regret the activity of his western speeches, which invite reprisals and more war. An entente is possible.

Meantime, there is great interest in the president's message, and largely because it is going to be so fresh as a piece of composition. It is bound to provoke discussion, and the House will be ready for speeches in a bill the appropriation committee will report so as to give the House something to work and speak on.

There is talk that the Congress will authorize the appointment of a tariff commission, dear to the heart of the westerners. It is declared by some western congressmen that, should President Taft advocate such a commission in his message, it would go through in a jiffy. This may prove to be the case, for the Republicans realize that the Payne bill, as it is, leaves the West unappeased, with prospects of dire political consequences if the disappointed feelings are not looked after. A tariff commission, it is believed, would assuage the West.

Proof of Theft in Chicken's Crops.

Pittsfield, Mass., Dec. 6.—Fred and William Steiner were brought before the district court Saturday on the charge of stealing chickens for their Thanksgiving dinner. They said that the chickens had been given them by their mother, Mrs. Steiner, and that she fed the chickens cracked corn and table scraps. Willis Hart, who claimed the chickens, said he fed whole corn. An autopsy was performed and the crops of the chickens were found to contain whole corn. The defendants were found guilty and sentenced to the reformatory.

Avoid Harsh Drugs

Many Cathartics Tend to Cause Injury to the Bowels.

If you are subject to constipation, you should avoid strong drugs and cathartics. They only give temporary relief and their reaction is harmful and sometimes more annoying than constipation. They in no way effect a cure and their tendency is to weaken the already weak organs with which they come in contact.

We honestly believe that we have the best constipation treatment ever devised. Our faith in it is so strong that we sell it on the positive guarantee that it shall not cost the user a cent if it does not give entire satisfaction and completely remedy constipation. This preparation is called Rosall Orlistics. These are prompt soothing and most effective in action. They are made of a recent chemical discovery. Their principal ingredient is odorless, tasteless and colorless. Combined with other well known ingredients, long established for their usefulness in the treatment of constipation, it forms a tablet, which is eaten just like candy. They may be taken at any time, either day or night, without fear of their causing any inconvenience whatever. They do not grip, purge, nor cause nausea. They act without causing any pain or excessive looseness of the bowels. They are ideal for children, weak, delicate persons and aged people, as well as for the most hearty person.

They come in two size packages, 12 tablets 10 cents, 36 tablets 25 cents. Remember, you can obtain them only at our store, The Rosall Store, Red Cross Pharmacy, Burt H. Wells, proprietor.

STOMACH DISTRESS IS ENDED FOREVER

Indigestion, Stomach Gas, Heartburn or Dyspepsia Will Be Relieved in Five Minutes with a Little Disapepsin.

Take your sour, out-of-order stomach—or maybe you call it indigestion, dyspepsia, gastritis or catarrh of stomach; it doesn't matter—take your stomach trouble right with you to your pharmacist and ask him to open a 50-cent case of Pappe's Disapepsin and let you eat one 22-grain tablet and see if within five minutes there is left any trace of your former misery.

The correct name for your trouble is food fermentation—food souring; the digestive organs become weak; there is lack of gastric juice; your food is only half digested; you become affected with loss of appetite, pressure and fullness after eating, vomiting, nausea, heartburn, gripping in bowels, tenderness in pit of stomach, bad taste in mouth, constipation, pain in limbs, sleeplessness, belching of gas, biliousness, sick headache, nervousness, dizziness or many other similar symptoms.

If your appetite is feeble, and nothing tempts you, or you belch gas, or if you feel bloated after eating, or your food lies like a lump of lead on your stomach, you can make up your mind that at the bottom of all this there is but one cause—fermentation of undigested food.

Prove to yourself in five minutes that your stomach is as good as any; that there is nothing really wrong. Stop this fermentation and begin eating what you want without fear of discomfort or misery.

Almost instant relief is waiting for you. It is merely a matter of how soon you take a little Disapepsin.

HER DOLL'S CLOTHES

By CHARLOTTE SHERWOOD. [Copyright, 1920, by American Press Association.]

There are more clandestine affairs between the sexes among the Spanish than any other people for the reason that no courtship except in the presence of witnesses is permitted. In Spain young men and girls are not allowed to come within each other's reach, the girls sitting on balconies attached to the dwelling and the young men standing below. There they may clime as they please. But in Brazil the clime is even stronger drawn.

In the Grifalva family at Rio de Janeiro was a pretty maiden of fifteen, Inez by name. Spanish girls develop young, but Inez did not appear to follow the rule. She had scarcely given up her doll, and as for noticing the young men, her mother, who wished her to be married at the proper time, like other girls, could not get her to have anything to do with any of them.

One day a youth of nineteen, Juan Bustamante, called at the house, asked for Senor Grifalva and made a formal application for the hand of little Inez. Though young, Bustamante was a desirable parti, and the Grifalvas had no objection to the match. The application quite took away the breath of the girl's parents. It seemed to her mother that a wax doll would be as well fitted to take charge of a house and rear a family as Inez. She was surprised also that any young man could have seen enough of her daughter, who had been kept under vigilant watch in the nursery, to wish to marry her. She asked Inez if she had ever seen Juan Bustamante and where, but Inez gave such childish answers, made such innocent contradictions, appeared so oblivious to what it all meant, that her mother gave up trying to get any reliable information. She made up her mind, however, that it would never do to permit one who had not yet left childhood answers, made such innocent contradictions, appeared so oblivious to what it all meant, that her mother gave up trying to get any reliable information. She made up her mind, however, that it would never do to permit one who had not yet left childhood answers, made such innocent contradictions, appeared so oblivious to what it all meant, that her mother gave up trying to get any reliable information.

GOOD IN SPIDERS.

They Don't Bite and Do Kill Many Injurious Insects.

I think it can be said that there never has been one absolutely authentic case of spider bite. The so called spider bites received occasionally, and generally in early summer, often it is bed, are inflicted by certain blood-sucking insects of several species, large and small. The mandibles of the average sized spiders are hardly powerful enough to pierce the human skin, and all of the poison contained in an arachnid's glands injected into the flesh of a human being will not make as much fuss as a respectable bee sting. Moreover, spiders are not mammal bloodsuckers and wouldn't bite if they could. So much for the negative qualities of spiders.

If it were not for the spiders we should all promptly starve to death. Perhaps this is a little startling; it is none the less true. To enlarge upon it, certain spiders prey upon certain caterpillars, regularly inhabit their abodes and kill so many of them that often whole colonies of the insects are wiped out of existence. These caterpillars normally feed upon the leaves of trees, bushes and shrubs, frequently entirely denuding a plant. If they were plentiful enough to exhaust their common food they would turn to the weeds and grasses. Without check of any kind they would overrun the earth and destroy every green and growing thing. The spiders beautifully preserve the balance of nature.—S. F. Aaron in Collier's.
